Generous gesture by famed Champion musician

The man behind the famous cricket song, I Made a Hundred in the Backyard At Mum's, will entertain guests at a special function at Adelaide Oval.

South Australian Greg Champion, who is also well known for his football songs, including, That's The Thing About Football, will perform at a Guide Dogs SA.NT function at 10 am on Friday, May 29 in the Gil Langley Room at Adelaide Oval.

Members of the Frank Beauchamp Benefactors' Society, a group formed to acknowledge major donors and supporters of Guide Dogs SA.NT, will enjoy a bracket of songs by the famed musician, as well as a tour of the Adelaide Scoreboard and Bradman Museum Collection.

Donor Relations Officer Simon Blight says the society, named after the first President of Guide Dogs SA.NT, holds several events each year.

"We are so appreciative of the support we receive from people in the community. Although our donations have obviously suffered due to tough economic times, many people are still making the effort to give what they are can.

"Every donation we receive, no matter how big or small, really does make a difference.

"This simple event, made memorable by Greg Champions' generous involvement, is our way of saying thank you."
